We cover the stories that empower you, or friends and your family.

High Country News isn't backed by a billionaire. It began in a small, rural community in Wyoming by a tough-minded rancher and has been kept alive by people who need to know the real story.

Forty six years later, we remain a vital voice for the American West.

Your gift subscription plays a major role in keeping that voice bright, clear — and real. In a time of clickbait news and an uncertain new administration in the White House, High Country News is the champion for everyone on your holiday gift list. Empower them all in 2017.
